

ALL JUICED UP

Effective and divine, these citrus products are so good, you'll want to eat them.

Orange you glad you flipped to this page?

By Samantha Boden

“When I think of flavors, I think color, so lemon should be yellow and orange is orange.”
-Dylan Lauren

1. Oui Shave's Blood Orange Himalayan Salt Body Scrub eliminates dry skin, boosts your mood and circulation, and doubles as a bath soak ($22, ouishave.com).

2. Etta + Billie Ginger Orange Body Scrub kills two birds with one stone: It exfoliates and moisturizes at the same time ($10.50, rodales.com).

3. Made of orange oil, Bobbi Brown Extra Balm Rinse removes makeup and can be used as a moisturizer when skin needs more hydration ($62, nordstrom.com).

4. Entirely vegan and cruelty-free, Pacific Tunisia Jasmine Lime Super Hydrating Hand Cream keeps hands soft and fights signs of aging ($9, pacificbeauty.com).

5. A must-have stress reliever, Fresh Sugar Lemon Sugarbath Cubes remove dead skin cells and even treat cuts and wounds, too ($38, fresh.com).

6. Ole Henriksen Truth Sugar Glow Polishing Mask instantly reveals a radiant complexion with a boost of vitamin C ($42, sephora.com).

7. Made with beer, vegan Bröo Thickening Craft Conditioner volumizes hair and smells like citrus (not suds!) ($7.50, target.com).

8. OGX Sunkissed Blonde Lemon Highlights Shampoo boosts that sunny glow to your tresses year round with lemon citrus oil ($8, ulta.com).

9. Fresh Citron de Vigne Bath & Shower Gel gently cleanses and nourishes dry skin—for her or him ($20, fresh.com).

10. Put a drop of citrus powerhouse Soap & Glory Orangeasm Body Butter onto damp skin after showering for super moisturization ($15, soapandglory.com).

Photograph by Masami Adachi
Styled by Sarah Guido-Laasko